

SALVIO CAPASSO

Head of Business & Territory Economy Service, SRM

Salvio Capasso is head of the Business and Territory Economy Department, at SRM - Intesa Sanpaolo Group. He has conducted much research on territorial economy, especially on agroindustry, textile and apparel, tourism, aerospace, automotive, and on the social and economic role of third sector in collaboration with research centers and national and international universities. He has been the guest speaker at numerous conferences, meetings and seminars nationally and internationally. He has authored scientific essays and articles published in scientific and technical journals.